BLAMES CASHIER FOR THE DEFICIT

Paul Stensland Run Down By Newspaper Men.

Caught in Morocco, Where He Sought
Protection From Extradition
Powers.

WOMAN SCORNED BETRAYS HIM.

Tangier, Sept. 4.—Paul Stensland, the prisoner here, declares he takes much blame for looting the Milwaukee Avenue bank of Chicago, upon himself, but Henry W. Herring, cashier, is the real culprit. He received the larger share of the money stolen from depositors. He said his preparation for flight were hurried. He took only $1,400 cash, while he could have taken a million. The stolen money was spent in real estate speculation.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—A cablegram to the Tribune announces that Paul O. Stensland, president of the Milwaukee Avenue State bank, was captured in Tangier, Morocco.

Stensland was arrested at 8 o'clock in the morning by a Tribune representative and Assistant States Attorney Harry Olson, of Chicago, in the English postoffice.

Stensland was betrayed by a woman who felt she had not been treated right by him and she went to the Tribune shortly after Stensland's flight with information of the direction he had taken. During the interval between his flight and arrest Stensland had been going under the name of P. Olsen, Norway.

It was ascertained that he had deposited $12,000 in the bank of Tangier. A reward of $5,000 has been offered for his arrest.

Former Cashier Herring learned early today of the arrest of Stensland and was surprised that Stensland had been taken alive, believing he would commit suicide before permitting capture. Herring said he did not know the woman who is said to have given the information.

A long line of depositors were in front of the Milwaukee Avenue bank when the arrest of Stensland was learned, and greeted with cheers, growls and threats. Later word was received at the states attorney's office that Stensland would not return with out extradition papers.

Assistant States Attorney Barbour late today received a telegram from the state department saying a cablegram had been sent to the Morocco authorities asking whether they would surrender Stensland, president of the failed Milwaukee Avenue State bank of Chicago, who was arrested at Tangier today.

The necessary steps were taken to secure requisition papers. A petition to Governor Deneen and one to President Roosevelt were included among the papers forwarded to the secretary of state at Springfield. The charge against Stensland is forgery.

WAIVES HIGH POST FOR FRIEND

Gen. Bell Steps Aside to Permit Comrade to Become Major General.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Brigadier General J. Franklin Bell, chief of the general staff of the army, has waived his right to promotion to be a major general in order that his friend, Brigadier General Jesse M. Lee, may have the honor and increased pay. The vacancy will occur Sept. 15 and General Lee will retire January 7. Not quite the same sentiment is entertained in the case of Captain John Pershing, who is said to be slated for promotion to the rank of brigadier general. His promotion means the jumping of 257 captains, 364 majors, 131 lieutenant colonels and 110 colonels, a total of 862 officers, who today rank him.

BOY SAVES MANY FROM DEATH

Quick Action Prevents Runaway Snow Plow Hitting Train.

Boulder, Colo., Sept. 4.—The presence of mind of Orlo Moxley, 12, years of age, saved the lives of scores of passengers on a train on the Colorado and Northwestern road today. A huge snow plow at the head of the canon was released and was speeding directly for the train. Moxley saw it coming a block away and made a desperate rush for a nearby switch. He just barely turned it when the snow plow came along at terrific speed and crashed into lumber yards adjacent.

BROKEN SHAFT

CRIPPLES JOE FOWLER ON TRIP TO PADUCAH.

Related Passengers Transferred and Boat Towed in This Morning—Laid Up.

With the shaft of the wheel broken, the most necessary part of the motive force of a boat, the Joe Fowler slowly and cautiously made for the landing at Carrsville yesterday afternoon late.

The nearness to the bank and landing prevented the boat drifting into danger, as the wheel being broken in its most vital part, was useless. The engineer attributes the break to a defective place in the shaft, which runs through the wheel. There was no panic among the passengers who were not informed of the condition of the boat until after a landing safely had been made.

Fifteen days will be required to repair the damage. A new wheel will have to be built. It is expected that the Henry Harley of the Ryman line will take the place of the Joe Fowler.

At 1 o'clock this morning the John Hopkins reached Carrsville and found the Joe Fowler disabled. The Hopkins took the passengers of the Joe Fowler on board and started to this city with it in tow, reaching here at 11 o'clock this morning. The related passengers of the Joe Fowler resumed their journey to Evansville at noon on the Hopkins.

His purpose is to seek recruits, and it is admitted if he is able to make such a march unhindered by the government forces, his army will be greatly strengthened.

BEAUTIFUL LIFE BROUGHT TO END

Mrs. A. J. Decker Succumbs to Her Affliction.

Church Woman and Social Favorite and Wife of Well-Known Manufacturer.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR FUNERAL

Mrs. Myrtle Mar'ah Decker, wife of Mr. A. J. Decker, the well known manufacturer, died at 6 o'clock last evening at her home, 905 Jefferson street, after an illness of ten days of kidney trouble. Her death will come as a sudden shock to her many friends here, as she was improving until yesterday when she had a relapse and passed away.

Mrs. Decker had been precariously ill several times the last few years, and had always yielded quickly to treatment, and hope of her recovery this time was entertained until a very few days ago. Death came peacefully with all the members of her family at the bedside, and the announcement of it was a great shock to her friends.

Mrs. Decker was born in Barlow, Ohio, but moved to Columbus in her early youth. Her maiden name was Miss Myrtle Kelley and she was married in 1889 to Mr. A. J. Decker. They came to Paducah from Indianapolis in 1893.

She was a devoted mother and wife, and her interest in, and devotion for her friends was the dominant note of a beautiful character.

In a quiet way, Mrs. Decker did a good deal of charitable work, in which she took great interest, and her sympathies were quick to respond to the afflictions and worries of her friends, and the needs of the poor.

She was a church worker and one of the members of the first board of directors of the Home of the Friendless.

She is survived by her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Kelley, Columbus, O.; her husband, Col. A. J. Decker, and two daughters, Misses Myrtle and Helen Decker. One sister, Mrs. R. C. Caslow, lives near Columbus. Mrs. Kelley and Mrs. Caslow arrived in Paducah Sunday to be at Mrs. Decker's bedside.

The funeral will be tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Episcopal church, the Rev. D. C. Wright officiating. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

UNIONS IN PARADE TO CHURCH.

Led by Band and Bartenders, Workmen Go to Hear a Sermon.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 4.—With a band of music at their head, members of trade unions last evening marched to the First Baptist church to listen to the Labor day sermon by the pastor, Rev. D. B. Cheney. The Bartenders' union was in front and more largely represented than any other union.

The Bartenders' union adopted a resolution, effective tomorrow, to fine a member $25 for selling liquor after 11 o'clock or on Sundays. The bartenders say it is purely a labor movement for shorter hours.

This action is coincident with the advent tomorrow of Mayor Lyons' administration which commonly has been expected to lift the lid but the move of the bartenders may prevent this.

NIGHT WATCHMAN SAW JAS. GRAHAM

Gave Chase to Him at Eighth and Burnett Streets.

Guy Looney Is Positive Prowler Was Man Charged With Murder of Claude Bass.

MR. AND MRS. JACKS REMAIN

Is James Graham still in the city? Several people are asking this question, and it is possible that a close watch around the city will result in the arrest of the suspected murderer of Claude Bass.

The question of his whereabouts has been raised by the report that he was seen last night in the neighborhood of Eighth and Burnett streets.

Young Graham had never been far from Paducah in his life and he has many associates here. He had little money, and is not of a temperamental disposition to make his way readily among strangers. For this reason it has been believed he would return soon and the police are on the alert to detect his presence.

Guy Looney, night watchman, at the Smith & Scott's Tobacco company's plant, Eighth and Burnett streets, saw a man prowling around the warehouses Monday night, going toward the gravel pit, which is just beyond Burnett street near Eighth street. He thought the man looked like James Graham, who is wanted by the police on the charge of murdering Claude Bass. Mr. Looney knows Graham well. He started out after the men, who ran into the woods and escaped.

The Jacks Remain.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Jacks are still in the city and will stay here until the latter part of the week in hope that something will develop, which will throw light on the murder of Mrs. Jacks' brother, Claude Bass.

The interest centered in the description of the charge of Pickett's command.

INSTITUTE DATES

OCT. 25, 26, 27.

Southwestern Kentucky Farmers Meet Here Then.

Dates Do Not Interfere With Horse Show and the Immigration Convention.

CITY MAKES APPROPRIATION.

The Southwest Kentucky Farmers' Institute will be held in Paducah on Thursday, Friday and Saturday October 25, 26 and 27.

These dates have been set by the county institute and the Commercial club. If possible, the sessions will be held in the Kentucky theater.

The institute was set late in the month so as not to be affected by or in anyway interfere with the attendance of the horse show the first week in the month, and the Southwest Kentucky immigration convention, October 4 and 5. At this latter meeting Hubert Vreeland, commissioner of agriculture, and the state board of agriculture and immigration, will be present to acquaint themselves with the movement and conditions.

They will also attend the institute when an imposing array of agricultural experts will address the farmers of southwest Kentucky.

To entertain this institute the lower board of the general council has voted to appropriate $500 and the question will be up to the aldermen tonight. The state pays the expenses of bringing the speakers here and the city furnishes the meeting place. But there will be additional expenses in showing the proper hospitality to the city's guests, and these properly will be borne by the city, as the city will reap the benefit from it.

The transport appears to be pierced amidships by the rock on which she hangs. Interisland steamers are now removing the cargo from the Sheridan's cold storage and valuables. It is planned to anchor the Sheridan and cable for further assistance.

MYSTERY IN WOMAN'S DEATH.

No Clue to Cause Leading to Killing of Mrs. Davis at Marion, Ill.

Marion, Ill., Sept. 4.—Mystery deepens regarding the killing of Mrs. John M. Davis, who was shot Friday afternoon in broad daylight. The police are without a clue, and no motive has been brought forward to account for the crime. The coroner's inquest has been adjourned for a week in the hope that further inquiry may be productive of results.

Mrs. Davis had been out calling and was returning home when shot. She was within a block of her house when she was seen to fall. Neighbors ran to her assistance and carried her body into the house. An examination showed a bullet was imbedded in her brain. She was unconscious up to the time of her death last night.

No one saw or heard the shot fired. Neither is the direction from which it came known. The first intimation of anything wrong came when Mrs. Davis was seen to fall. So far as known the dead woman had no enemies. The possibility that she was mistaken for some one else is not regarded as tenable, as she was well known to everyone in the town and her identity could not have possibly been mistaken.

Sheriff Harris insists it is a case of murder, but has no theory to advance to support this contention.

EXPLAINED

SHERIFF WILL CONTINUE TO MAKE MONTHLY SETTLEMENT

September 1 Came on Saturday With Rush of Business and Delayed Accounting.

The misunderstanding between the fiscal court and the sheriff's office was explained yesterday and the incident was closed. Sheriff Ogilvie will continue making his monthly settlement of roads funds as he always has done. On this occasion, the end of the month coming Saturday with a rush of other business, including the opening of court, made it impossible for the sheriff to post his books in time to turn over the money promptly without discommoding a larger portion of the public doing business at the sheriff's office. When this was explained to Judge Lightfoot he in turn made explanation to the magistrates.

NO ICE

AND ILLINOIS CENTRAL SHOP MEN WALKED OUT.

Company Hurried Supply With Special Engine and Break Was Healed Quickly.

Because there was no ice water supplied at 7 o'clock this morning for the 100 blacksmiths, boilermakers and helpers in the Illinois Central shops, the entire force walked out and gave the company until 10 o'clock to fill the barrels with ice water. Soon after 10 o'clock ice was supplied and at 11 o'clock the force resumed work. The officials stated in explanation of the failure to have ice water that the men, who have this in charge, failed to get the ice to the shops on time. The ice is stored at the storehouse at the passenger station and hundreds of pounds a day are used. The supply was rushed to the shops on a special engine.

IN FORTY-SECOND ROUND GANS WINS

Battling Nelson Deliberately Fouls Colored Man.

Fastest Fight in Years Displays the Wonderful Recuperative Powers of Nelson.

GANS HAD ALL THE BEST END.

Arena, Goldfield, Nev., Sept. 4.—
Battling Nelson deliberately fouled Joe Gans in the forty-second round of the best and longest fight in many years.

Both men were tired when the fight ended, but Gans was apparently the stronger.

He was away ahead on points and had smashed and cut Nelson all through the fight without being hurt himself.

Shortly after the forty-second round commenced, the men were in their usual clinch. Nelson had his head on Gans' shoulder and his arm down.
Several times he hit Gans below the belt, apparently feeling for a vital spot. At last he drew back his right arm and hit Gans a vicious blow, square in the chest. The colored boy sank to his knees and rolled over on his back. Referee Siler, without hesitation ordered Nelson to his corner and awarded the fight to Gans on a foul.

Siler's decision received almost unanimous approval.

Gans in many ways put up a most remarkable battle. His work was the more wonderful when it is known that in the thirty-third round he broke his right hand. Never after that did he strike a blow with it, with the exception of a few short arm jolts
while clinching.

The first fifteen rounds were fast, after that the men slowed up and only at intervals was there a rally.

Although Gans was far ahead of Nelson in points and most of the time looked like a sure winner, Nelson
put up a wonderful fight on his side.
The endurance and recuperative powers shown by Nelson were extraordinary. Time and time again Gans would jolt him on the jaw, sending his back. His knees would bend and his eyes become glazed, but he always fell into a clinch and held on and would then come back fighting as ever, in his own peculiar style.

On nearly half a dozen occasions
when it seemed that another blow
would put the white boy out, the gong rang and saved him.

On several occasions, however, Nelson apparently had the advantage.
He would hit Gans as they broke from a clinch and the colored boy would hang on the wrestle.

Gans fought a remarkably clean fight. He was fair in everything.

Nelson Was a Long Stayer.

If ever a man was built for a finish
fight that man is Battling Nelson.
While he was engaging in six-round bouts in the east he was a joke. Fight promoters put him on in cheap preliminaries or did not put him on at all. Over the short course he was no better than any of the other cheap men and not so good as the clever ones. His one great asset—his marvelous endurance—did not get any chance to show itself inside of six rounds. He fought men who hammered him to the floor time after time, but every time he came back. He was once knocked down 19 times in six rounds. But he was not knocked out. He says he has never been knocked out.

Then he came west, where the twenty-round fight is the usual thing.
He jumped into prominence at once.
Every man whom he met gave him a terrible drubbing in the early rounds.
Spider Walsh did it at Salt Lake, but in the end he went down and out before the Dane's stamina. Martin Canoa beat Nelson off for 15 rounds.
—In fact, he wore his life out pounding away at the whalebone man in front of him.

The only reason why Nelson whipped Young Corbett in such quick time was because Young Corbett, finding a man whom he could hit with every punch in his repertoire, put up such a fast fight that his belt was soon shot.
Nelson took a severe drubbing, but he was strong when Young Corbett whipped over his last despairing punch.

Nelson Is Not Clever.

To sum it all up in a few words,
Nelson had nothing but his stamina.
He was not clever and all talk about his acquiring cleverness was rot. To make him clever would be to destroy his usefulness as a fighter.

He is still the easiest man in the business to hit. He has no defense, he never had any.

The fight was made at Nelson's best weight, the route favored him and he had youth and endurance on his side.

Now as to Joe Gans—he is six years older than Nelson, but for various reasons

fighting five years longer. Nelson's first fight is dated in 1896, but he was then 14 years old and fought but four fights up to 1899. Nelson's real record dates from 1899.

Gans is the cleverest light weight this country has ever produced. He goes about a fight very much as a man makes a watch; he knows everything which contributes to a winning fight; he has ring generalship down to an exact science, and in addition to this, the negro has a knockout punch in either hand. There is but one man in the light weight division whose punch compared with Gans' and that man is Aurelio Herrera.

The Mexican is not a sure puncher like Gans is. The negro never wastes a blow, and he does not have to bring a punch from a far country in order to do damage. He plants his blows systematically, one after the other,
and he is a master mechanic at making every blow count.

W. H. Mills, of Chicago, said at the Palmer House last night: "In the last three years, Paducah has made more progress than any city its size
I know, and I visit Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee. Louisville and Paducah are the only two cities I make in Kentucky.
It has been about three years since I last was here, and your streets, street railways, buildings and the atmosphere of the city are noticeably better. Paducah has its nose to the front and I don't see how it can be turned away soon."

"Continuing, he said: 'You people strive sharply to get a system of interurban railways. Get one to Fulton, to Cairo, to Princeton, and you will centralize the trade of all West Kentucky in your city. It would give your city a start which could not be overtaken. They would mean more to your city than a score of big factories, because they would place your city within easy reach of several hundred thousand customers for your stores. It would be a mint for your merchants.'

Theatrical Notes

The Two Orphans.

It sometimes seems wonderful how imagination can create a personage that will live on in memory from year to year. In this connection might be mentioned the part of Louise in "The Two Orphans," which was invented and made popular by Kate Claxton at one time America's leading emotional actress. Louise is a mental creation of more than 20 years ago and today when properly portrayed brings as much sympathy as ever. "The Two Orphans" will be presented at The Kentucky matinee
and night, on Saturday, September 5.

Mary Emerson, who was a few seasons ago leading lady for Louis James and made quite a reputation for herself in the middle west, and who has since been seen at the head of her own company in "Will o' The Wisp," and "His Majesty and the Maid," has entered the Nixon and Zimmermann fold and will be seen in a beautiful revival of the last name's piece during the early part of this season, supported by an excellent company; later on she will present a brand new play for which preparations are now being made.

British Perspicacity.

Charles Francis Adams was escorting an English friend about Boston.
They were viewing the different objects of attraction, and finally came to Bunker Hill. They stood looking at the splendid monument, when Adams
remarked:

"This is the place, sir, where Warren fell."

"Ah!" replied the Englishman, evidently not very familiar with American history. "Was he seriously hurt
by his fall?"

Mr. Adams looked at his friend.
"Hurt!" said he. "He was killed,
sir."

"Ah, indeed," the Englishman replied, still eyeing the monument and commencing to compute its height in his own mind. "Well, I should think he must have been—falling so far."
—Boston Herald.

STOLEN WHEEL.

Sold by Boy, Who Gave the Name of Johnson.

A boy who gave his name as John Johnson is wanted by the police for disposing of a wheel, which was not his. The firm of Gleaves & company bought the wheel from the boy, took his name and description of the wheel was regularly taken down. Mr.
C. H. King, of 1026 Trimble street, identified the machine as his, which was stolen. Johnson is thought to be a fictitious name.

Daily Thought.

The lower board of the general council is right in backing up the efforts of the Commercial club and the county farmers' institute, by making an appropriation to defray incidental expenses in entertaining the Southwest Kentucky Farmers' institute. While the state pays all expenses of the speakers and the prizes, the meeting place must be furnished by the city and there will be little details of hospitality which must be paid for, that would reflect discredit on the city and be a source of humiliation to every Paducahan if not attended to. It is Paducah that is to be given credit for the manner in which the delegates to the institute are treated while guests of the city, and this expense properly should be borne by the city. Perhaps, in no way could money be better spent in advertising the city. These men come here from a contiguous territory that can be made a source of direct revenue to Paducah, and it is to the interest of the city and every citizen in it to make these farmers welcome and court their good will. Many cities have convention funds set aside, sums far in excess of the nominal appropriation for this event. Cities often bid for conventions and agree to spend so much money, and provide accommodations for delegates, which naturally the delegates would be expected to furnish themselves. In this instance, however, the Commercial club and the farmers' institute have secured the institute without obligation other than to provide a meeting place. The board of aldermen and Mayor Yeiser no doubt will concur in the action of the lower board.

The discovery of the northwest passage, if it is true, crowns with achievement one of the most glorious romances of history. Columbus and all his contemporaries, and his predecessors, and subsequent explorers for many years devoted their time and money to the search for the "northwest passage to India." More recently the idea has been given up, and the Panama and Suez canals and transcontinental railroads render the discovery of little commercial value. But we always must remember with gratitude, that it was the quest for this all-water route that brought about the early discovery of our land.

Judging from the infrequency with which candidates are dropping $2 entrance fees into the hat of Democratic Committeeman James Lang in answer to the hysterical cries of "Vox Populi," and "Many Voters," not only officers but nominations will be seeking the men in Paducah this fall.

Some folks were storming at what

GENUINE SYMPATHY.

First Tramp: "Says in this 'ere paper as 'tw some of them millionaires works eight and ten hours a day, Bill."
The Philosopher: "Ah, it's a 'ard world for some poor blokes!"

they chose to term discord between the city departments. Haven't they a good word to say for the manner in which Mayor Yeiser, the general council and the board of public works acted in the street improvement matter?

The emperor of China has promised his country a constitution whenever the "people are fitted for it." Apparently the emperor intends to fit the people to the constitution instead of fitting the constitution to the people.

Detectives state that Stensland, the Chicago bank wrecker, was Morocco-bound, when he left home. They might have added that he was guilt-edged, and his price and scarcity stamped him an edition de luxe.

A convention of delegates to elect a president and adopt a constitution, has been called in Ecuador. This novel method of choosing a ruler may appeal to the fickle fancy of the South Americans.

Paducah enjoyed the company of thousands of orderly, liberal, well-behaved guests yesterday. The city's only concern is whether her guests had a good time, and they appeared to be happy.

Battling Nelson should have considered that racial predilection for low fowls, when he struck Gans that deliberate blow in the forty-second round.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.

C. A. Walsh, Democratic national committeeman from Iowa, has this to say about the personnel of this executive committee:

"Sheehan, formerly a discredited Buffalo politician, builder of the most vicious political machine ever known in Erie county, arrested for the flagrant violation of the civil service law, his machine finally routed and he practically driven from Buffalo, is now, with his partner, Judge Parker, one of the chief corporation lawyers of New York, representing among others, the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, and has represented in legislative halls and the courts, Consolidated Gas, Edison Electric and many others. He is a director in the Cord Meyer Development company, the company lately caught stealing the city's water on Long Island, and in many other corporations.

"Belmont is the head of the American branch of the famous European banking house of the Rothschilds. He organized the company that captured the New York subway. He is a director in about thirty special privilege-seeking corporations. He maintains a legislative bureau with a press annex, and is notorious for his lobbying methods. He is the leading promoter of horse racing and race track gambling.

"Smith was formerly the iron-fisted boss of the Essex county machine, a friend and tool of William C. Stickney, reputed friend of Gov. Abbott, of New Jersey, but betrayed him in his senatorial fight in 1903, and had himself elected to the United States senate. While in the saddle as boss of the state of New Jersey the gravest frauds were revealed in that state, and in a whirlwind of public resentment he and the party were driven from power in 1894, and the party power has never been regained in New Jersey. In the senate he was the same corporation tool, co-worker with Gorman and Bruce. His last appearance in the limelight was as receiver of the International Shipbuilding company, when he asked a $200,000 fee, although the work was largely done by attorneys, his bond was only $100,000 and the total sums passed through his hands were only $1,125,000 in the aggregate. The attorney general opposed this and the fee was cut down.

"Martin, prior to election to the United States senate, was the attorney for the Chesapeake & Ohio railway, while Gaffey is looked upon as the field agent of the Standard Oil.

"In deed, the only member of the Democratic national executive committee not known as a special representative of that corporation class which is constantly seeking special privileges of city, state or national government is Mr. Ryan."

As the result of an attempt to ascertain the nature of the contents of a peculiar looking box by setting fire to it, Beverly Pryor, the ten-year-old son of Frank Pryor, 1904 Guthrie avenue, lies in bed with his legs, arms and face swathed in bandages.

The box contained powder. The accident occurred at 1 o'clock today. Beverly and a companion were playing in the stable and noticing a box with black powdery-looking contents, they struck a match to see if it would burn. When the neighbors reached Beverly Pryor his clothing was burning and the skin had been burned off his arms, legs and part of his face.

After his injuries had been dressed he was resting easy and will be out in the course of a week.

WEEKLY MEETINGS.

McCracken County Medics May Change By-Laws.

The physicians think that better, more effective work will be done if weekly meetings are held, and that the interest will be keener.

LABOR DAY PLAN PROVES SUCCESS

Every Detail Carried Out As Arranged.

Thousands of Strangers in the City Attended the Celebration at Park.

MADE MORE THAN EXPECTED

Labor Day has come and gone and this morning the hundreds of tradesmen who were enjoying a day of celebration yesterday are back at their places with pleasant memories of yesterday. The day was slightly marred in the afternoon and evening by rain, but thousands flocked to the park, permitting nothing to interfere with their pleasure.

The most important event of the day was the election of a Goddess of Labor. Hundreds sold tickets for days before the day of the election arrived, and there was a great deal of rivalry among the workers. Miss Geraldine Gipson won the honor, receiving a total of 778 votes. She was the carpenter's candidate. Miss Edna Bukey, candidate of the machinists, received 336. Miss Mattie Love Prince, 302. The latter was the railroad carmen's candidate.

Miss Gipson, directly after the polling of the vote, was given a fine gold watch. The presentation speech was made at the dancing pavilion in the presence of hundreds, by Chairman Carroll. Miss Gipson resides at 1743 Harrison street and is one of the most popular young women in the city.

Capt. Ed Pearson drew the brass bedstead, drawing No. 711.

The Best Dancers.

At the dance given under the auspices of the Central Labor Union last evening at the Wallace park pavilion, the best waiters were Miss Hallie Lofton and Mr. William Herbst, of the Plumbers' union. The young lady was awarded a pair of shoes.

Most Successful.

The Central Labor Union is about $300 ahead the result of Labor Day. While the figures cannot be definitely determined this is the estimate of those in a position to know.

The sale of Goddess of Labor tickets netted a great deal and gate admission and other sources of revenue swelled the total amount.

"I would estimate the net proceeds of our Labor Day celebration at $300," Mr. George Walters said. "We had a great deal of expense but managed the affair carefully. In the afternoon I judge we had 5,000, and at night fully 8,000. The excursion rates to the city drew about 2,000 visitors. It was one of the most successful celebrations we ever had."

Members of the committee of the Central Labor union, which had charge of the celebration yesterday, are receiving the compliments of friends and the thanks of the union for the manner in which they carried out all the plans. Financially and every other way the event exceeded all former efforts.

IRON HAND RULE

Will Be Adopted by New Commandant of the Police.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 4.—General Trepoff, commandant of the palace, is to be succeeded by Lieutenant General Baron Kleigels, according to a report based on good authority today. Kleigels is a believer in the iron rule method. He has been responsible for many cruel reprisals against the revolutionaries.

An Assistant of Nature.

One of the most interesting things of this day of interesting things is the great success being achieved by osteopathy.

There is hardly a day that some cure which is deserving of attracting much attention, is not made by this new science, and the more it is studied, and the better it is known, the easier it is to see why it is so.

Osteopathy merely aids nature to cure.

It is a system of healing built upon demonstrable facts.

It discovers the cause of disease, and treats it by scientific manipulations in order to correct disorders and bring about a natural condition.

Nearly all diseases yield to the treatment, and the diseases local to Paducah do so most readily.

In rheumatism, liver and bowel, or stomach troubles, chronic headaches tired-out, run-down conditions, nervousness, its success has been very marked.

I should like to have you call to discuss your particular case at any time, and not only will I tell you frankly what osteopathy will do for you, but refer you to well-known Paducah people whom it has done much for.

Mayor Issues Edict Against The Vagrants.

Shortage of Hands in Tobacco Fields Move Executive to Interfere With Idleness.

LOUISVILLE SALOONS OPEN.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 4.—Mayor Meacham has instructed the chief of police to enforce the vagrant law in Hopkinsville with the utmost vigor and no idlers or loafers will be permitted in the streets. The farmers are begging for hands to save the tobacco crop and offering $1.25 to $2 a day and all able bodied men who will not work will be put to work on the streets or driven from the city.

The rapid ripening of the tobacco crop and the ravages of the worm, together with the scarcity of labor, have caused the farmers of the county to offer almost unheard of prices for workmen to go into the fields in an effort to save their crops.

This morning a farmer drove up to a crowd of negroes near the L. & N. depot and offered $1.50 per day to all who would go. Several accepted his offer and he drove off. Barely had he gotten out of sight before another farmer drove up and offered $1.75. Immediately his wagon was filled, but before he drove away still another farmer drove up and sang out, "Boys, I will give all of you $2 a day to go with me." This was the best yet and all the negroes, even those who had accepted the other man's offer, rolled into his wagon and he drove off.

As a result that part of Ninth street which is usually filled with idle negro men and boys is deserted today.

Bryan Coming Sept. 12.
Louisville, Sept. 4.—John W. Vreeland, chairman of the Bryan southern reception committee, returned home from New York yesterday, having gone east with members of his committee to see Mr. Bryan and acquaint him with the plans for the reception for the Nebraska in Louisville. "I will be in Louisville on September 12," Mr. Bryan assured Mr. Vreeland.

Took Another's Mail.
Hopkinsville, Sept. 4.—J. Harned, a young white man who lives in the county, was arrested Sunday by Deputy United States Marshal T. J. Cundiff on the charge of receiving letters containing checks for another party and appropriating same to his own use. He was held over under $1,000.

Beer is Not an Alcoholic Drink

An Eminent Scientist Says It Cannot Properly Be Called Such.

In view of the increasing popularity of beer, it is interesting to note what the really eminent modern scientists say of it. There has been, and still is in certain quarters, a prejudice, against beer, but this prejudice, like many prejudices, is based on ignorance. Beer is not a "liquor," as it is frequently called by uninformed people, and it is not an intoxicant. Of course, it is possible to drink too much beer, just as it is possible to eat too much meat, but the proper use of beer is declared by eminent doctors to be beneficial to the health.

Dr. E. Struve of Berlin, a well-known scientist, says: "The specific characteristics of beer is not in its alcoholic property. Modern techniques in beer brewing have a tendency to reduce the amount of alcohol in beer and to correspondingly increase the proportions of extracts. Owing to the small amount of alcohol in beer, the same can not properly be called an alcoholic beverage."

Pabst, for sixty years, has been the leader in all scientific developments in the art of brewing and today Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is the recognized superior of all beers, richest in the extracts (food elements) of which Dr. Struve speaks, absolutely pure and clean and low in its percentage of alcohol.

Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is so rich in food elements because brewed only from Pabst exclusive eight-day malt. This malt is grown from best selected barley and grown slowly, in Nature's own way, thus retaining all the vital food strength of the barley. It gives Pabst Blue Ribbon the highest food value and makes it most nourishing. The very small percentage of alcohol in Pabst Blue Ribbon, only three and a half per cent, serves to stimulate the digestive activity of the stomach and cannot be injurious to the health. Pabst Blue Ribbon, the most healthful beer, the choicest of bottled beers, is the beer for the home.

in default of which he was sent to jail. Young Harned secured a letter addressed to John Harned, which contained a check on a Mayfield bank for $200. Then he secured another check for $50 from the postoffice in the same manner. The young man is a nephew of the older John Harned and no attempt was made to prosecute him in the courts, but the government took up the matter.

Sold Liquor Openly.
Louisville, Sept. 4.—In every section of Louisville liquor was sold openly in disregard of the Sunday closing law. Over 150 barrooms opened their doors at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, ostensibly for the sale of soft drinks and cigars, but few were the proprietors who refused a drink of beer or whisky on demand. At 11 o'clock Chief Gunther had received reports that nine or ten saloons were open yesterday. The reports from the Third and Seventh districts were still to be received. Only four arrests were reported yesterday at central station.

The Buttrick arrived last night from Nashville and will lie over until Wednesday morning for the regular trip to Nashville. Scarcity of labor at Nashville caused the Buttrick to get away late and miss the short trip to Clarksville.

Wednesday evening will be the regular time for the Saltillo to leave St. Louis for the Tennessee river, arriving here Friday morning.

The Savannah will arrive out of the Tennessee river Wednesday morning on the return trip to St. Louis. It is the last trip of the Savannah, which will go into the Mississippi river trade.

The City of Terre Haute arrived out of the Wabash river Sunday to run in the Cumberland river trade until the Gate City is ready to start in that trade. The City of Terre Haute has a 30-horse power gasoline engine with stern-wheel motive force. The Gate City has been chartered by L. C. Moss, of Pinckneyville and E. J. Brown of Dycusburg, to run between Paducah and Dycusburg daily. It will be inspected Wednesday and will make its first trip Saturday. Dycusburg is 30 miles up the Cumberland river and has no railroad. Prospects are that this boat will bring an important addition to our business interests in the form of shoppers among the retail stores. Tuesdays and Thursdays the Gate City will go to Iuka, which is seven miles above Dycusburg. The City of Terre Haute probably will go back to the Wabash river.

A telegram was received from the John Hopkins at Golconda this morning, stating that the Joe Fowler had broken down and that the Hopkins was bringing the Joe Fowler back to the city. The telegram did not state what was the nature of the accident. After the Clyde unloaded last night at the wharfbank, there was just room enough between the freight for a wagon way. The Clyde brought a large load of peanuts from the Tennessee river. Wednesday evening it will leave for the Tennessee river.

JOHN COUNTS GOT GENEROUS, INDEED

Returned Bill and Change [to a Customer.

He Found Himself Out Just $19.25
and a Quart of Whiskey by Transaction.

WOULD RECOGNIZE THE MAN

Labor Day proved disastrous to John Counts, the liquor dealer, at 129 South Second street. He made a strange negro a present of $19.25 and a quart of liquor.

"It happened this way," Counts explained, "I let my bartender off for the Labor Day parade and waited on the trade, while he was gone. I got in a hurry, waiting on four men at the time, and a negro walked in for a quart of liquor. I took his $20 and shoved some liquor over to another customer. Then I got twisted. I handed the negro back the bill he had given me, went to the cash drawer and secured $19.25, which I handed to the negro. He made a hasty departure and it was not until some time later that I saw my mistake."

Mr. Counts thinks he would recognize the negro again if he sees him.

"The road's doing all it can, gentleman."

"That's a whole lot, ain't it?"

"We are out off," said Holt helplessly. "Everything is tied up tight."

"You can wire, can't you?"

"Yes, I can wire; I have wired."

"Well, where's the relief train, then?"

"It's at the Junction."

"It's going to do us a lot of good

there, ain't it?"

"They'll send it as soon as they can get together a crew."

"Strut them up again, Holt. Tell 'em

we got to have that hose and those engines or the town's gone. It's a matter of life and death."

Another voice asked: "They are ready to fight for them."

"And we ought to be just as ready to fight if it comes to that," answered the master mechanic. "It's for the common good."

The crowd was seized with a noisy agitation. Its pent up feelings found expression in bitter denunciation of the north end. A man—it was the Hon. Job

Barrows—had mounted the courthouse steps and was vainly endeavoring to make himself heard. He was counseling delay, but no one listened to him.

The houses must be torn down without their owners wanted it or not. Mc-

Clintock turned up the street.

"Fall in!" he shouted, and at least a hundred men fell in behind him, marching two abreast. Here and there he saw a man who would forsake the line to disappear into his own gate. When he rejoined his neighbors he invariably carried an ax, pick or crowbar.

From the square they turned into

Main street and from Main street into the north road, and presently the head of the procession halted before a cluster of small frame houses resting in a hollow to their right.

"These must come down first," said

McClintock. "Now, we want no noise,

men. We'll pass out their stuff quietly as we can and take it back to the square."

He swung open a gate as he spoke.

"Williams keeps a team. A couple of you fellows run around to the barn

and hook up."

Just then the front door opened, and Williams himself appeared on the threshold. A dog barked, other doors opened, lights gleamed in a score of windows, and the north end threw off its cloak of silence and darkness.

"Keep quiet and let me do the talking," said McClintock over his shoulder. Then to the figure in the doorway:

"We have come to help you move,

John. I take it you will be wanting to leave here shortly. We'll give you a hand." And the master mechanic pushed through the gate and took a step down the path.

"Hold on!" cried Williams, swinging

out an arm. "I got something to say about that?"

There was a sound as of the clicking of a lock, and he presented the muzzle of a shotgun.

"Oh, say," said McClintock gently,

"you had better not try to use that! It will only make matters worse. Your house has got to come down. We got to save what we can of the town."

Williams made no answer to this, but McClintock saw him draw the butt of the gun up toward his shoulder.

The men at his back were perfectly still. They filled the street and, breathing hard, pressed heavily against the picket fence, which bent beneath the weight of their bodies.

"You'd better be reasonable. We are losing precious time," urged Mc-Clintock. "In an hour or two this place

will be on fire."

"I've got no kick coming if it burns,

but it shan't be pulled down."

"Put up your gun, and we'll give you a lift at getting your stuff out."

"No, you won't."

McClintock kept his eyes on the muzzle of the shotgun.

"It ain't the property loss we are thinking of—it's the possible loss of life," he said mildly.

"I'll chance it," retorted Williams

briefly.

"Well, we won't."

Williams made no reply. He merely fingered the lock of his gun.

"Put down that gun, John!" commanded McClintock sternly.

At the same moment he reached around and took an ax from the hands of the nearest man.

"Put it down," he repeated as he stepped quickly toward Williams.

The listening men pressed heavily against the fence in their feverish anxiety to miss nothing that was said or done. The posts snapped, and they poured precipitously into the yard. At the same moment the gun exploded, and a charge of buckshot rattled harm-

lessly along the pavement at McClintock's feet.

Then succeeded a sudden pause, deep,

breathless and intense, and then the crowd gave a cry—a cry that was in answer to a hoarse cheer that had reached them from the square.

An instant later the trampled front yard was deserted by all save Williams in the doorway. He still held the smoking gun to his shoulder.

CHAPTER XXIII.

WHEN Roger Oakley appeared

on the platform at Buckhorn

Junction Durks started, violently, while Dan took a quick step forward and placed a warning hand on the old convict's arm. He feared what he might say. Then he said to the operator: "He'll do. Go see if you can get Antioch. Try just once more. If you succeed tell them the engines and hose will be there within an hour or they need not look for them.

Do you understand?"

"All right, Mr. Oakley." And Durks

moved up the platform with alacrit-

ty. He was relieved of one irksome responsibility. He had his own theories

as to who the stranger was, but he told himself it was none of his business.

As soon as he was out of hearing

Dan turned to his father and said earnestly:

"Look here, daddy, I can't allow you to do it. We are neither of us popular. It's bad enough for me to have to go."

"Why can't you allow it, Dannie?"

And his son recognized the same cheerful tone with which he had always met and overruled his objections.

"It will end in your arrest, and we don't want that."

"It's more than likely I'll be arrested sooner or later, anyhow," he said, with a suggestion of weariness, as if this were a matter it was a waste of time to consider. "The Lord has set his face against me. It's his wish I should return. I've been stubborn and headstrong and wouldn't see it, but look there." And he nodded toward the red western sky. "It's a summons. I got to obey whether I want to or not."

"It won't be safe. No telling what they will do with you."

"That ain't the question, Dannie; it's not what they'll do to me." And he softly patted the hand that rested on his arm.

Dan saw that his clothes hung loosely to his mighty frame. They were soiled and stained. He had the appearance of a man who had endured hardship, privation and toil. His glance was fugitive and anxious. "Where have you been all this while?" he asked. "Not here?"

"No; I have been living in the woods, trying to escape from the country, and the fires wouldn't let me. Wherever I went they were there ahead of me,

driving me back."

"Why did you kill him? How did it happen?" Dan asked. "Or is it all a mistake? Did you do it?"

The smile faded from the old convict's lips.

"It was a sort of accident, and it was sort of careless, Dannie," he explained, with a touch of sullenness.

"I hit him—not hard, mind you. I know I shouldn't have done it, but he was in the wrong, and he wouldn't listen to reason. I don't know when I ever seen a man so set in his wickedness."

"And now you want to go back. Do you know what it means if you are arrested? Have you thought of that?"

EXAMINATIONS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Arranged For By Superintendent Lieb.

County Teachers' Association Will Take Up Course of Study This Fall.

PREPARATION FOR OPENING.

Supt. C. M. Lieb and Principal Payne of the High school, have outlined examinations for pupils who failed to pass or who were ill at the close of schools and could not take the tests. The examinations will be held as follows: Wednesday morning mathematics; Wednesday afternoon High school, English, grammar and language in the grades. Thursday morning, history and geography; Thursday afternoon, all other subjects not scheduled as above. The examinations will be under direct supervision of Principal Payne.

Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock a meeting of principals will be held at the High school building. At this meeting outlines of the work to be done and preparations for the opening of school made.

His A. B. Degree.

Prof. E. G. Payne, principal of the Paducah High school, for the second time took the Bachelor of Arts degree at the Chicago university where he had been for the summer taking a summer course of training. Prof. Payne took the same honor once before at this university. He is a popular and efficient teacher.

Course for County Teachers.

The county teachers will hold monthly meetings and take a regular literary course just as do teachers in the city schools. This has been decided on by the teachers and Prof. Billington, superintendent of the county schools. "White's Art of Teaching" has been selected for study, and the first meeting will be held the fourth Saturday in September. All but half a dozen county schools have started for the winter six months' session.

REFUSES HONOR.

Mr. Harold Fisher Will Not Accept Chair at Notre Dame.

Mr. Harold Fisher, who recently was graduated with honors from Notre Dame, has been offered a chair in civil engineering in that institution. He received the offer yesterday by wire. He has decided not to accept, this year, at any rate, as he desires to get away from academic pursuits and the confinement of boarding school life for a while. Mr. Fisher, who is the oldest son of Postmaster F. M. Fisher is the youngest graduate of his alma mater.

ANOTHER CHARGE FOR F. B. RICHARDS

This Time Uncle Sam Is The Prosecutor.

Awaiting Trial for Housebreaking When Accused of Robbing a Post-Office.

UP TO FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Another and more serious charge has been preferred against F. B. Richards, who is in jail awaiting trial for housebreaking, and he will have to face a federal tribunal on the charge of being implicated in the robbery of the post-office at Mexico, Ky., April 6. Post-office Inspector R. M. C. Hosford is responsible for his detection.

Wallace Woolfolk is in jail here now awaiting trial for the post-office robbery, and Inspector Hosford says there will be no difficulty in convicting both of them. Richards, it is claimed, has made a complete confession.

Richards claims that his home is in Chillicothe, O.

Richards was this morning held by United States Commissioner W. A. Gardner to the federal grand jury. He entered a plea of guilty.

Last May Wallace Woolfolk, charged with robbing the postoffice at Mexico, Ky., was sent here from the Owensboro district to await trial. Soon after his incarceration Frank Richards was arrested here for housebreaking and held to the grand jury. He was taken to the county jail and when Woolfolk saw him, readily recognized him as a confederate.

Inspector Hosford has been looking for Richards ever since Woolfolk's arrest.

John Lovett commonwealth's attorney, agreed to turn Richards over to the United States authorities, but will take the housebreaking case before the county grand jury and try Richards when the United States has finished his case.

PASTOR DENOUNCES FOES; QUILTS

Iowa Clergyman Makes Bitter Attack on Alleged Slanders.

Sioux City, Iowa, Sept. 4.—Rev. Dr. John W. Frizzell, pastor of the First Congregational church, whose membership is made up of prominent families created a sensation at the morning service by denouncing his opponents from the pulpit, hinting at prospective slander suits, and tendering his resignation. He said it had been reported that he had bought his doctor's decree with money, and that other accusations had been made behind his back which has caused his family no end of sorrow. He bluntly assigned as the reason for his resignation the "prejudice, petty fault finding and unchristianlike hostility" of certain members of the church. While he was speaking, his wife and daughter sat sobbing in a pew.

TRIES TO KILL SOMEBODY; DIES.

Man Who Shoots at Liveryman Without Reason Slain by Bullet.

Bush, Ill., Sept. 4.—Johnson Hubbs a liveryman, shot and killed Alonzo Farmer in the former's stable yesterday. Farmer was intoxicated when he appeared at Hubbs' place and announced: "I've got to kill somebody, and you'll do as well as anyone else." He drew a revolver and began firing upon the astonished Hubbs. Three bullets went wide of the mark. Hubbs hurried home got his revolver and returned. He walked coolly up to Farmer and fired at him just as Farmer again shot at Hubbs. The liveryman's bullet entered Farmer's chest. A verdict of justifiable homicide was returned by the coroner's jury.

RODENBERG SAYS "STAND PAT."

Illinois Congressman Wants No Alteration of Tariff Duties.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Representative Rodenberg, of East St. Louis, is in Washington and is an out-and-out "Standpatter." He says: "As to the tariff, there is not a particle of sentiment in my district for a change. The people don't want a change. They are well pleased and don't want any agitation in behalf of a change. I represent the old 'Bill' Morrison district. The great old Democratic chief with free trade ideas, wouldn't know the district now. Manufacturers fill it from end to end, and the people are for protection."
